St Pius has provided me with unforgettable memories, opportunities for growth and life-long friendships.

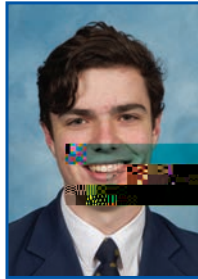

My tip for getting good results in the HSC is to find your passion. Success will come if you choose subjects you genuinely enjoy doing.

The teachers at St Pius X go beyond academics and care about who you are as a person, your values and the man you want to become. School also provides a lot of fun and great friends.

An important thing is building resilience. It is inevitable not all things will go according to plan, but don't feel dejected. The only thing you can do is promise yourself to do it better next time. It is also important to instill dedication and discipline in younger years, to train your mind – those who cruise by on natural talent or expect a sudden boost of motivation in Year 12 will be disappointed.

St Pius provided me with me with so many opportunities. In particular my experiences at St Gabriel's, CentaCare and Willowood allowed me to reflect on how privileged I am and have shown me the importance of treating everyone with humility and kindness.

My tips for getting good results and managing the HSC are to plan ahead. Start organising your time early and ensure that you always take the time to understand tricky concepts and cement your knowledge through completing practice questions and papers.

What I enjoyed most about Pius was the amount of opportunities given to students to develop as 21st Century leaders. The College is one of dignity, and I am proud to have been part of a community which values and promotes humility, stewardship, perseverance and discipline.

My advice for excelling in the HSC is to be self-motivated. Your attitude determines your success so be organised, start things early, set goals, and never give up, because hard work pays off.
